

EPITAPHS.

Myril Bowman, M.A., Oct., 1915-Dec., 1916.—Returned to the University to do massage and to entertain the members of the College. Your masterly personification of Mrs. Shuttleworth in the Game of Adverbs and Gluttony on Soup-night placed you high in the theatrical records of College. Good luck to you and your massage work in the Old Country.

Nell Braye, 1911-1916; Secretary of College, 1915; Sub-editor Magazine, 1915; Sports Committee, University; Inter-'Varsity Hockey.—A keen student and a thorough sport, you were ever ready with help and advice in matters of every kind. All good luck to you in your medical career!

Eleanor Chase, 1914-1916; Science Librarian, 1916; member of Tennis Committee, 1915-1916.—We won't say good-bye to you, Eleanor, for the Zoology School is quite near College, but we wish good luck to the new demonstrator.

Jessie Davidson, Sept.-Dec., 1916.—Your stay with us was short, and, let us hope, sweet, although you struck College in the term that is ever darkened by the shadow of coming events. We wish you luck in your school work.

Dorothy Glasson, 1916-May, 1917; Representative Med. I., 1916; Med. II., 1917.—Alas! for your medical career! Like your cousin, you have deserted College for matrimony. We offer you our very good wishes for your life in Java.

Marsie Godfrey, B.A., 1916.—In your short year with us you managed to spare time from post-graduate English and the study of education to take a keen interest in the Christian Union and—may we venture to say?—carpets. Good luck, little hockey girl!

P. Mander Jones, 1914-1916; Librarian 1915-16; Editor, 1916.—You made a name in College records, not only by scholastic achievements, but by your energy as Editor and Librarian. Good luck to the M.A. work.

Melanie Laidley, March, August, 1917; Massage Student.—Your time at College was short, but we wish you all good luck in your massage work.

Marjory Macaulay, 1914-1916; College Vice-President of S.U.W.U.A., 1915-1916.—Goodbye, Murrumbidgee Mac. The haunts of second floor no longer re-echo to the sound of your hearty megaphone. We wish you the very best of luck, and an end to the plague of mice. Perhaps you would choose as epitaph a variation on the Pied Piper of Hamelin.

Marion Robertson, May, 1915-Dec., 1916.—Your interest in psychology and the occult sciences was surprising. We are still wondering whether Freud's theories will work or not. Good luck to you in your schoolwork at Cootamundra.

Roslyn Rutherford, 1916; member of House Committee.—Farewell, most excellent drill sergeant! We recall with gratitude your energy in manipulating the company on the tennis lawn, and hope to have you back here again in the days beyond the war. Good luck to you!

Elma Sandford, 1910-1917, Senior Student; Sports Committee, S.U.W.S.A.; Inter'Varsity Hockey.—An enthusiast for sport and literature, who was always ready with help and advice for this our Magazine. We wish you all good luck at the R.A.H.C., and in your future work. Good-bye and good luck to you.

Polly Smith, 1914-1916.—Congratulations on surviving your flight into the airy realms of pure mathematics and modern philosophy! We wish you good luck in your work.

Minnie Wade, 1916.—You were only with us a year, but distinguished yourself by a brilliant performance as prima donna in the Freshello Operatic Company. Adieu, Margarita!

RESULTS OF EXAMINATIONS, DECEMBER, 1916—
MARCH, 1917.

Arts III.—J. Davidson; P. Mander Jones, second-class honours in French, first-class honours in German; R. M. Macaulay, second-class honours in German; P. Smith, second-class honours in Mathematics; M. Robertson, second-class honours in Philosophy.

Arts II.—R. Collins, distinction in German, credit in French; E. Martin, Garton Scholarship for French and German, distinction in English; M. Radford, distinction in Latin; M. Regg, distinction in History.

Arts I.—K. Crago, credit in History; R. Hardy; R. Saunders, credit in History.

Dip. of Education.—M. Godfrey.

Science III.—E. Chase, second-class honours in Zoology, with Prof. Haswell's prize (aeq. with B. Somerville), second-class honours in Physiology; M. Lilley, second-class honours

PAST AND PRESENT.

"Come you again or come no more,
Across the world you keep the pride,
Across the world we mark the score."

—Newbolt.

We congratulate Mrs. Lewis (D. Teague) on the birth of a son.

Dr. Alexia Maclean was recently married to Dr. Mitford Lilley, who is now on active service.

Mrs. Drake (Gladys Markwell) has returned to America.

Miss Merle Bray has been married to Mr. Hector Glasson, brother of Kitty Glasson, who is now Mrs. Taylor. We congratulate Mrs. Taylor on the birth of a daughter.

We congratulate Miss Gladys Noble on her engagement to Mr. R. Scott Orr. Miss Noble's brother has married a College girl, Miss Bonney Roberts.

Miss Enid Armstrong is working as a V.A. in a military hospital in England.

Miss P. Mander Jones is teaching at Abbotsleigh, Wahroonga, in the place of Miss J. Owen Harris, who is taking a holiday.

Miss R. Bray has joined the faculty of medicine, and is at present engrossed in the minor mysteries of stingray and velocity.

Miss Maude Fitzhardinge is now principal of Astraea College, Chatswood.

Miss Roslyn Rutherford and Miss Myril Bowman have succeeded, after many difficulties, in reaching England, where they went to act as masseuses.

Miss K. Coatsworth and Miss S. Evans are studying Japanese in the new Oriental classes at the University.

Miss Mabel Murray Prior has obtained the degree of M.D. of Edinburgh.

Miss Marjorie Ross has gained credit in fourth year medicine.

Dr. Exton and Dr. Nell Braye have abandoned the Royal Alexandra Hospital for children. Dr. Braye is going to the Royal Hospital for Women, Paddington. Dr. Elma Sandford passed her final examination in August, and is now Junior Resident at the R.A.H.C.

Miss Mona Ross came high on the credit list in her finals, and is now Dr. Mills' resident at R.P.A.H.

Mrs. Dryburgh (D. Glasson) was married in July, and is living in Java.

Miss Alvena Parkinson is teaching in Sydney. She is also working for her M.A.

Miss Ethel Scrivener is in the Commonwealth Bank in Sydney.

Miss Evelyn Watson is to be married on December 20 to Mr. McWhinney.

Miss Elsie Gasteen was recently married to Mr. Leonard Byth.

DEBATES.

Towards the end of the second term a Debates Committee, consisting of M. Herring and R. Hardy, was appointed by the General House Committee. This committee got speedily to work, and before term ended the College met in the common room for the thrilling entertainment provided by an impromptu debate. Ten speakers braved the terrors of the shaky wooden box that served as a platform. The subjects were written on slips of paper, which were drawn by the president (Mr. Herring) from a hat, and given to the trembling victims by an attendant (R. Hardy). The victims then proceeded to speak in pairs for and against a proposal for three minutes (or less).

The subjects were as follow:—

"That swelled head is better than cold feet." Proposed by M. Regg; opposed by M. E. Anderson (winner).

"That there should be a tax on spinsters." Proposed by M. Rice; opposed by T. Durie (winner).

"That Sydney would be improved by an underground railway." Proposed by F. Witts (winner); opposed by D. Swanwick.

"That Professors should retire from University work at a certain age." Proposed by E. Sandford; opposed by E. Castleden (winner).

"That eggs are improved by being boiled for thirty minutes." Proposed by D. Philp; opposed by S. McConnel (winner).